

Love

The love of God shines on humanity like the light of the sun.
Our love should be like the light of the sun:
we should love everyone, even those who mistreat us.

*In the space below, draw a garden full of flowers.
Next, draw the sun shining its light on the garden.
Will the sun's light help the flowers grow?
If the sun's light is like our love, what will happen when we love people?*

“O Friend! In the garden of thy heart plant naught but the rose of love . . .”
Bahá'u'lláh

O _____! In the _____ of thy _____ plant _____ but the rose of _____
